Primal Kitchen Dressings - New Flavors

Primal Kitchen now offers three new flavors of shelf-stable dressing: buttermilk ranch, creamy Romano, and tzatziki. All are made with real ingredients, like avocado oil and grass-fed dairy. They're great for dipping veggies, topping a fresh salad, or marinating your favorite protein. Pair the tzatziki dressing with our housemade gyro meat for your next Greek-inspired dinner!

Catalina Crunch Creamy Ranch Snack Mix

Catalina Crunch offers a wide variety of cereals and snacks, and we've now added their Creamy Ranch protein snack mix to our shelves. It's a good source of protein and fiber, with roasted almonds, chickpea pretzels, Catalina Crunch cereal, and soy protein wheels. The ranch flavor is tangy with notes of onion, chive, and dill, all in one crave-able crunchy mix!

Inka Jalapeño Plantain Chips

Inka's newest flavor is jalapeño, packing a bold and spicy punch in every chip. Although plantains are technically a fruit, they're mostly used as a vegetable because of their high starch and low sugar content, which makes them similar to potatoes. The plantains are harvested at the perfect level of ripeness, sliced into thick pieces, roasted, and seasoned up; making them a tasty, crispy snack!
